

The Fog-Borne Trail

About This Experience

Some places don't reveal themselves easily. Samse in Chikkamagalur is one of them. You don't just show up and expect a smooth ride. You earn it — kilometre by kilometre, switchback by switchback. What starts as a highway cruise slowly narrows into winding trails, with bogs, wet leaves, and terrain that has a mind of its own. You're not in your world anymore, but in the forest's. No frills here. Set up your own space, get a fire going, and revel in a DIY cookout. Nights like these make you realise what really matters — good company, great food, and sound sleep. This isn't an escape. It's a reset. You learn by doing. You drive by sensing. You spot for each other, listen more, speak less, and embrace your wild side!
